PARIS, BOURBON COUNTY, KENTUCKY: TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1883.

NO. 162.

COME out of that linen duster! WE had two slight frosts last week.

FALMOUTH fair this week, and Maysville next.

"SCHOOL butter" and "chicken flutter" both!"

Snow fell at Argentine Pass, Cal., Thursday evening. PAW-PAWS have made their appearance in our market.

SAVE your religion and get a hired man to put up your stove pipes. W. A. Johnson and three other sports killed 80 doves Friday afternoon. THE District Conference of the Methodist Church, begins to-morrow at Cynthiana.

If there's an oyster in this city, the owner ought to let it be known through the papers. No balloons were sold at our fair last week -the best feature about the whole business.

SEVERAL arrests for gambling and disorderly conduct were made at our fair last week.

WHEN you go to the Latonia races at Covington, Saturday, stop at the Arlington House.

POTATOES are selling in Danville at twentythree and a half cents per bushel, delivered on the cars.

THERE was not a single arrest made in in our city last week, in consequence of the fair going on. WINCHESTER is to have a fine railroad hotel, which will be built near the "Grand Union Depot." Two preachers have been fined $150 each for shooting at a mark in the corporate limits of Midway. JUDGE TURNEY fined Tom Holliday, Jr., $5 and costs, yesterday, for disorderly conduct at the fair Friday. HAVERLY'S Minstrels Wednesday night, and Seeman's exhibition on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. PAT FALLON lost a buggy whip marked with his initials, at the fair. The finder will be liberally thanked. Pur on your winter under-duds and quit eating watermelon. You cannot make heaven out of this earth all the time! CAPTAINS Joe Desha and Dan Turney were unintentionally omitted from our published list of attendants at the re-union last week JAS. L. BROWN, Deputy Collector for this district, has had Fleming county added to the territory over which he has supervision.

THREE hundred mourners for Barnum's circus wiped their weeping eyes and had their money refunded at Midway, because a wreck on the railroad prevented a train from passing to Lexington in time for either performance. Cruel fate got a good cussing on that memorable occasion.

L. C. TIPTON, traveling agent for the Dennett Twine Binder, who has been en attendant at our fair for 30 years, and J. H. Robinson, of Seymour, Ind., who has been an attendant for 15 years, say that they got the best dinners at the public dining hall last week than they ever before got on the Bourbon or any other fair grounds. This speaks well for Roche & Schwartz as caterers.

THE flag of the 6th Missouri regiment o Confederate infantry was on exhibition at the reunion of the Orphan Brigade at Lexington. Color Sergeant Eugene Hull carried it in a charge at Corinth, Miss., where he received nine wounds, and 26 out of 28 commissioned officers, and 22 out of 23 non-commissioned officers were killed or woundeds The flag was pierced with many bullets.

In 1861, while he was making his way South to enter the Confederate service, he was captured by the Federal troops at Elizabethtown, and a very fine pair of Irish dueling plstols which had been handed down to him as an heir-loom, were taken from him. Eight years later, when peace had spread her silvery wings over the land and the bloody chasm still stood fresh yawning, he was attorney in a civil suit for a client at Danville, and his business called him into the office of Col. Faulkner, formerly commandant of a Federal regiment, who, on opening a drawer of his desk, revealed to the eye of Blackburn the butt of a fine pistol, which his practiced eye at once discovered as his. He remarked at once that it was his, and proceeded to minutely describe it in detail regarding many points, even giving the manufacturer's name. Col. Faulkner told him that he had described it to a dot, and acknowledged that it must certainly be his (Blackburn's,) but said nothing about giving it up, and Blackburn conceded that it was Faulkner's by all the rights of Mary Beall, and sister of Newton Beall, now war, and made no further claim than it's of Cincinnati. recognition. NEWS OF THE WEEK

Condensed and Put Into Readable Shape.

AT WASHINGTON.

Postal Notes Not Legal Tender. Treasurer Wyman, on the 5th, declined to receive a postal note for the payment of express charges on U.S. notes sent to Washington for redemption by a bank in Connecticut. Mr. Wyman says that he has no facilities for cashing these notes, as it is necessary they should be sent to the postoffice. Payment by such means, he claims, would only add to the labor of the Redemption Bureau, which now collects express charges by deducting the required amount from the sum sent for redemption. First Comptroller Lawrence, whose opinion was asked on this subject, says that postal notes are not a legal tender, and that anybody has the right to refuse them.

Another Army Officer Gone Wrong. Information was received by the authorities at Washington on the 6th, to the effect that Lieutenant Porter, of the Third U. S. Cavalry, who has been acting Quartermas ter at Fort Thomas, Arizona Territory, is $1,900 short in his accounts and has deserted rather than face a trial. Lieutenant Porter is a graduate of West Point, and has been in the army but a few years.

Why a Postmaster Was Removed.

Conley, late postmaster at Atlanta, Ga., wrote a letter to the Postmaster General a few days since demanding reasons for his (Conley's) removal. The Postmaster General has written a rather sharp reply, in which he says that before he removed Conley he had conclusive evidence that the latter had not only retained in his office, but had promoted, clerks whom he knew to be dishonest. He adds that in view of what recently passed between Conley and an inspector of the Postoffice Department, he is surprised that the former should now ask why he was removed. The allusion is supposed to be to admissions of delinquency made by Conley to the Inspector, and reported by the latter to the Postmaster General.

Will Not Allow Indians to be Exhibited.

In answer to an application from the French Charge de Affaires for permission to take twenty Indians from their reservations to France for exhibition, Commissioner Price has advised the Secretary of the Interior to refuse the request upon the ground that such exhibitions result in the demoralization of the Indians, and render them dissatisfied with life at the agen-

THE State Department has been advised by the United States Minister at Bangkok of the contemplated departure for the United States and England of an embassy from the Kingdom of Siam, composed of his Royal Highness Prince Krom Mun Hars Harrehd, a secretary of legation, and two military and one naval attache.

Officers of the Post-office Department express the opinion that the inadvertence of Congress in making the bill to regulate Postmasters' salaries go into effect at once, instead of on the 1st of October, the date fixed for the reduction in the letter rates of postage, will cost the Government $1,500,000 in increased salaries. The sys tem of grading salaries proportionately in accordance with the receipts of the office is also unfavorably commented upon at the Department, for the reason that under this system the Postmasters are continually tempted to make fictitious sales of stamps in order to increase their compensation.

DOMESTIC.

Heavy Damages by Frost.

A heavy frost visited Hampden, Hampshire and Franklin Counties, Mass., on the night of the 4th. The tobacco crop is damaged, in some cases severely. The loss in Franklin and Hampshire Counties is estimated at $125,000. Farmers in that section have already cut and housed about a half crop. The greatest damage is to the tobacco fields, in some of which the crop is a total loss, and they will simply be plowed | ments and music were totally consumed;

Fatal Cattle Disease in Penusylvania. A disease known as splenic fever has attacked cattle in several portions of Pennsylvania, and is raging with great violence. A large number of cases have already proved fatal. The disease is apparently on the increase, occasioning great alarm among stock owners.

Two Ladies Drowned.

Carrie Waldmayer and Amelia Weaver, aged nineteen and twenty-one, of Philadelphia, were drowned at New Brunswick, N. J., on the 6th. Strolling along the beach, Miss Waldmayer slipped from the rocks and fell in the water, and Miss Weaver tried to rescue her. Miss Waldmayer's body was recovered.

For the Suppression of Dudes.

The Federation of Labor in Washington at a meeting a few nights ago adopted the following resolution: "Resolved, That a committee of one member from each trade represented in this federation shall be appointed to recruit a society for the protection of women from insult on the streets of Washington. Said society shall hear complaints, and determine what method of redress is advisable in such cases; and the community is hereby respectfully requested to report all complaints of this character to said society for their investigation." A vigorous warfare against the masher and tal. dude is to be inaugurated, which, it is believed, will successfully rid the city of the

The St. Louis Sunday Cases Dismissed. In the Court of Criminal Correction at St. Louis on the 5th over eight hundred cases against saloon-keepers for selling beer on Sunday were nolle prosed, on the suggestion of the court. This ends for the present the fight against saloon-keepers. This action was taken in view of Judge Noonan's late decision sustaining the law of 1857, under which in St. Louis City, by special act adopted by a vote of the people, the sale of beer and wine on Sunday is permit-

Destructive Hurricane at Sea.

The steamer Lamport, under way from Baltimore to London, was struck by a hur ricane a few days ago and disabled. The vessel carried one hundred and seventy cattle. The waves sweeping over the deck lifted the cattle pens upon their crests, and all but thirty-six of the animals were swept overboard or killed. Several vessels are reported lost.

Wants Quarantine Modified. The New Orleans Board of Health requests the Governor to withdraw the nonintercourse proclamation, leaving in force the original quarantine proclamation of April 4, calling for ten days quarantine of vessels from infected districts. Reports from Ship Island Quarantine Station state not a single case of sickness among quarantined crews. The schooner Jennie Woods, from Vera Cruz, arrived at Ship Island with no sickness, but the vessel is isolated.

Three Persons Cremated. The house of John Evans, at Riverton, Ill., was destroyed by fire on the 6th. Mrs. Phœbe Hyland, mother of Mrs. Evans, aged sixty-eight years, and two children of Mrs. Evans, a boy aged four and an infant baby, sere burned to death. Mrs. Evans, who was in the yard at the time the fire was discovered, and rushed up-stairs trying to rescue her mother and infant, was badly burned, and was forced to leave them to their fate to save her own life. The old lady was very fleshy, and would not trust herself to go down the stairs, which were then in flames, and would not give the babe. which she was then holding, to the mother.

Michigan Crops.

Returns received by the Secretary of the State of Michigan show that in the southern four tiers of counties 114,889 acres of wheat threshed yielded 1,737,520 bushels, an average of 151/2 bushels per acre. The acreage reported threshed is eight per cent. of the total acreage as returned by Supervisors. The yield in the southern two tiers of counties is generally better, but in the central and northern counties not as high as estimated in July. The figures indicate a total yield in the State of about 23,600,000 postmasters in filling them out, which is bushels, or nearly 600,000 bushels less thee causing the banks to refuse them. the total product estimated in July.

Shade Trees in Pastures.

Every piece of land which is to be used permanently as a pasture should have some shade trees on it. If there are none which grow naturally, efforts should be made to encourage a few to grow around the watering-place and on the tops of the hills. Where they come up naturally they should be encouraged in all parts of the field, but not too thick; if they are oaks or maples, ten to | islature, all officers are appointed; and pine or hemlock, the smallest number | behavior. would be too many, for while scattering deciduous trees do but little injury to a pasture, evergreen trees are very likely to kill out the grass under them, after they get large enough to shade a considerable space of ground. The red cedar is an exception to this rule, but the trees do not spread their branches to a very great distance from the rior the rock maple makes a good pas-ture tree, though the shade is more dense and injures the red maple. The black walnut is an easy tree to grow, and makes valuable timber when grown.

Rough, rocky pastures may be easily made to produce wood or timber, which will very materially increase the income of the land with very little injury to the feed; in fact a few shade trees are beneficial to a pasture, affording a shady retreat for the cattle. There are some trees that should not be encouraged, such as the grey birch, poplar, black cherry and pitch pine; these are not only poor shade trees, but they cover the land with seed, and thus make a constant expense to keep them within

The apple tree makes one of the best of our grandfathers many pastures were lined with apple trees growing in their natural condition, bearing natural fruit; but the practice of setting apple trees in a pasture has long ago been very generally abandoned, and the rule now is to let the pastures take care of themselves. I was about seventeen when in the winter time we had a job that took us a good bit to and fro between Shadwell and Limehouse, and I was pulling along one evening while he was smoking his pipe, when says he: 'Easy, you Billy; you see that bit of driftwood yonder? I noticed it yesterday and the day before,' says he, 'and there and not go one way or t'other. Pull toward it, and we'll have it aboard.' I did so, and he put his arm over the 'if it isn't made fast with a line; and if it isn't buoying something at the bottom it's strange to me.' Well, when he heard what I had to say about it, he was in a rare way. We had another haul at it, but it wor of no use. 'Well, we'll have it somehow,' says he. 'It is no use to-night, letin. but we'll drop down here early in the over. And mind you' he says, 'not a word about it to anybody. Good or bad, whatever's in that box we go fair halves in, and only you and me will know anything about it.' So we talked it over when we got home, and he went out and bought some strong gear. I was awake pretty nearly all night thinking about it, and next morning before daybreak we were off, and at Limestone before there was light enough to make out our buoy en box, and took a turn or two round it, and then came up for breath, and down again two or three times, until I'd got the thing well hitched. I had something to lay hold of now, and with him and pretty soon put it aboard. We had brought a sack with us to slip it into, and before breakfast time were back wife there, and with the door locked and the blind pulled down, we broke the box open with the tongs and poker, and what d'ye think was inside it? EXPRESSMEN LIABLE.

Mr. A. S. MERRILL, the popular expressman of Brunswick, Me., writes us on May 15, 1883, as follows: 'Having been severely afflicted for about two years with inflammation of the kidneys and bladder, so called by my physicians, I suffered with distressing pains in my back and retention of urine, caused by a stoppage of the neck of the bladder, and a complication of other diseases. I was hardly able to attend to my business, and at times would be completely prostrated. I was also affected with incontinence of urine to an alarming degree, indeed, it demanded my attention fifteen or twenty times per night, and at times it would seem impossible for me to ride down to the depot on my wagon, for every jar from the wagon would almost seem to take my life. Having failed to obtain relief from my doctor, I finally consulted our druggist, Dr. Merryman, of Brunswick, and requested him to furnish me with the most reliable and speedy cure for such sickness, for I was suffering too much for human nature to endure long. The doctor recommended me to use Hunt's Remedy, as it had been used with remarkable success in a good many cases in Brunswick and vicinity. I purchased a bottle, and received such great relief that I continued, and had not used two bottles before I began to improve beyond my expectations. The pains in my kidneys and loins disappeared, I gained strength, and my water began to pass naturally, and I was able to sleep soundly, and obtain the greatly needed rest which for a long time I could not. I am fully restored to health, and can attend to my business. Thanks to Hunt's Remedy for my restoration, and I highly recommend it to all who are troubled with kidney complaints."

COULD NOT LIFT A POUND.

The above are the words of Mrs. Harriet Balley, of Putnam, Conn. She writes May 3, 1883: "I have been troubled with kidney and liver disease for two years. I suffered severely in the back and loins. Before taking your wonderful medicine, Hunt's Remedy, I could not lift a pound. After giving it a fair trial, I began to improve, and can now truly say it was a 'Godsend to me,' as I am now able to do my household work and enjoy the best of health. I have recommended Hunt's Remedy to two of my neighbors, who have been greatly benefited by it. This letter I send voluntarily, with the hope that it will be the means of inducing some sufferer to use Hunt's Remedy, and be cured as I have

CHICAGO, Aug. 21, 1883.

This Offer Good Till Thanksgiving Day Only.

The proprietors of the FARM. FIELD AND FIRESIDE, being desirous of having their already well-known and popular Agricultural and Family paper more widely circulated and introduced into houses where it is not already known, have determined to throw off all profit this year, and in addition use a portion of their capital for the sole purpose of increasing their circulation to 100,000 copies. Its circulation is now 65,000. Only 35,000 more needed before the distribution takes place. After deciding to more extensively advertise than ever before, the following plan has been adopted by us:

We will enter your name on our subscription book and mail the FARM, FIELD AND FIRESIDE regularly to you for Six Months and immediately send a printed numbered Receipt, which will entitle the holder to one of the following Presents to be given away at our THANKSCIVING FESTIVAL. Partial List of Presents to Be Given Away.

And 92,935 other presents valued from 25 cents to $1.00, which makes a grand aggregation of 100,000 presents, thus guaranteeing a present to each and every new subscriber who sends us 50 Cts. as directed All of the above presents will be awarded in a fair and impartial manner by committee chosen at the Festival by the Subscribers; this festival will take place without fail. It will not be necessary for Subscribers to attend the Festival, as presents will be sent to any part of the United States or Canada. Yet it is to be hoped as many will be present as possible.

THE 50 CHINTS which you send us is the recular price for Six Months' Subscription, and therefore we charge nothing for the presents. OUR PROFIT will be in your future patronage, as we believe you will like our paper so well that you will always remain a subs riber.

YOUR SUBSCRIPTION FREE, Get five of your friends to join you by cutting this out and showing it to them. Send us $2.50 and we will send you the FARM, FIELD AND FIRESIDE for six months, and a numbered receipt for each of your subscribers and one extra for your trouble.

SEND TENS UBSCRIBERS with 35 and we will send | 2 subscriptions and twelve numbered receip's. We shall limit the number of new subscriptions to 100,000, so we would advise all our friends to forward subscriptions early.

THE FARM, FIELD AND FIRESIDE

is one of the oldest and ablest edited Family and Agricultural papers. It contains twenty large pages (Eighty Columns), including elegant cover, bound, stitched and cut. It does away with Sallowness, Redness, Pimples, Blotches, and all diseases and imperfections of the skin. It overcomes the flushed appearance of heat, fatigue and excitement. It makes a lady of THIRTY appear but TWEN-TY; and so natural, gradual, and perfect are its effects, that it is impossible to detect its application.

Like an Evil Spirit.

In olden times it was thought that evil spirits came in through cracks and keyholes. The generally approved way to keep them out was to plug up the keyholes and stop the cracks with cotton. Notwithstanding these preventive measures, the evil things had their own way and often came in as they pleased.

So comes malaria now-a-days. We try to keep it out of the keyhole and it comes in by the crack. We stop up the crack, and lo! it comes from a leak in the plumbing, or an opening from some neglected drain, or from some unsuspected source and unguarded direction.

We cannot always keep malaria out, but we can give it battle and drive its effects from our systems. If Brown's Iron Bitters is taken in time, malaria has not a ghost of a chance. This is the great family medicine. Your druggist sells it, and you ought to keep a bottle in the house.

What Governor Knott Is.

"Governor Knott is a man made of a different metal. Those who take him for a humorist, who will make a joke of magistracy, know nothing of him. There is is a good deal of cynicicism in his wit; and, in his character, both moral and 1.00 mental, he is exacting and exact to the verge of austerity. It would be hard to find a more inaccessable person. Cold, direct and able, one of the best trained public men, ambitious only for the rewards of useful and honorable service, very clean and very close, perfectly sincere, positive, but unaggressive, a little lazy, but entirely trust-worthy, a little narrow, but admirably learned, Proctor Knott posesses the elements of a really great Governor. He cannot be driven, nor easyily led; and yet, in his private little to the North. life and to bis familiars, a gentler and more complying disposition, or a brighter kichard Reid, of Mt. Sterling, is a candidate tor Judge of the Court of Appeals, to succeed Judge Hargis—subject to the action of the Democracy of the First Appellate Disman who separates his domestic from his public life.
